CARSON CITY, NEVADA, FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1922

NUMBER 152

NO LIGHTS IN VEGAS AS RESULT OF STRIKE

The complaint against the discontinuance of electric light service at Las Vegas, the result of the strike of railroad shopmen, was filed today with the Nevada public service commission by residents of Las Vegas.

Power for the Las Vegas lighting system is purchased from the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company and because of the strike the railroad is not generating electricity.

As a result of this, Las Vegas is without electric lights.

STATIC ELECTRICITY PREVENTS CONCERT

Owing to the prevalence of static electricity last evening the radio concert given under the auspices of the Lincoln Highway Association, was badly handicapped and after endeavoring to get through a clear concert, Wallace Blood, expert radio operator in charge of the equipment, announced that it was futile to continue. Faint music was received from the Post-Intelligencer broadcasting station, but it later became impossible to hear anything but the loud buzzing sound. The party left shortly after the demonstration for Lake Tahoe and will continue on to California.

MINE CASE APPEAL ARGUMENT HEARD

The case of R. S. Page and Marie Olive Page vs. Mark Walser and Frank Margrave was before the state supreme court today for argument on appeal.

The Pages brought suit to recover some mining claims in southern Nevada and they were upheld by a district court decision. The case was then appealed.

HOLDS NEPOTISM LAW APPLIES IN COUNTIES

A reiteration of the opinion that public boards, commissions, and other bodies in Nevada are prohibited by the nepotism law from employing relatives has been made by Deputy Attorney-General Robert Richards following an inquiry from White Pine county.

Richards first rendered an opinion for the district attorney of Humboldt county, declaring that the board of county commissioners could not appoint a relative of one of the board members. This opinion was protested by several in Humboldt county and after consideration Attorney-General Fowler affirmed the opinion.

Following this, the district attorney of White Pine county propounded the question as to whether or not the board of education there could employ on a commission basis a relative of one of the board members as superintendent of construction of a $12,000 school building.

Richards reaffirmed his previous opinion to the Humboldt district attorney.

Today a protest was received from White Pine county attorneys and others in the following letter Richards once more affirms his stand:

"We have your favor of July 5, relating to our opinions heretofore issued concerning the nepotism law. I desire to assure you that our opinions were purely impersonal and were rendered by us at the request of the district attorneys of Winnemucca and of Ely, without naming any person whomsoever.

"The first opinion covered a situation at Winnemucca, as affecting an appointment of the board of county commissioners. This induced a protest of certain people there, based generally upon the arguments contained in your letter. As the opinion was written by me, the subject matter was then extensively reconsidered by the attorney-general, myself, and others, and no good reason could be seen why the opinion should be overruled, and, by order of the attorney-general, it was reaffirmed in the opinion to your district attorney.

"We are as strongly of the views announced by us as you are of the views contained in your letter and, in this connection, not only these opinions but all opinions of the attorney-general are purely advisory and we would gladly welcome a judicial construction of the statute in question.

"You will realize that matters of expediency do not and should not influence us in the discharge of official duty and, therefore, we are constrained to reaffirm the opinions heretofore given relating to the nepotism law.

CROPS FLOURISHING SAYS WEEKLY REPORT

The weather for the week ending July 4 continued hot and dry in all sections of the state, says the weekly report on weather, crop, and range conditions issued by E. H. Jones of the weather bureau. The report, in part, follows:

"Temperatures at the regular weather bureau stations were as follows: Average daily excess, at Reno 10 degrees, Winnemucca 7, Modena, Utah, 3; highest temperature, at Reno 100 (on the 3d), Winnemucca 100 (on the 4th), Tonopah 96 (on the 4th) Modena, Utah, 98 (on the 4th). There were a few scattered light showers, occurring mostly in the southern portion on the 28th and 29th.

"Reports still indicate a flourishing condition of nearly all crops. Owing to the high soil-moisture content at the beginning of the season, both dry farms and ranges are withstanding the effects of the prolonged dry weather better than usually. First cutting of alfalfa is finished in many places, but is continuing in others with favorable results. In the northern portion of the state the potato crop, while looking well, is generally late, with the tubers just setting. Most fruits are light, yet looking fine. In northern Washoe county spring-sown grains are looking rather poor. In Clark county the observer states that grains are light, but the second crop of alfalfa is up and doing well. The observer at San Jacinto, in northern Elko county, also reports grains a little slow, but other crops good.

"Conditions of all stock continues good and generally improving, except in a few southern localities. Shearing is completed, and practically all the sheep are on the summer range. Horses are running light. In the northwest part of the state the percentage of lambs saved proved very good."

WRITER SAYS RADIO CONCERT WAS 'BUNK'

Civic Center, Carson, Nev.

Barnum wuz rite, we shore did git stung. We went to git sump'n fer nuthin', 'n we got nuthin' fer nuthin'—an' we liked it. "Radio Ralph" hit town last nite, and got a lot uv free advertisin', an' us poor sumps stood there fer two hours—first on one foot an' then on 't'other, an' then on sump'ddy else's foot—'n' all we herd wuz buzz! burr! spit! NIX! blooy!

'N' the man kep sayin' jjes wait good peepul, 't' static conditions are poor (whatever that is—don't think he knows hisself) jjes wait, will be all right by and by, and we jes stood there till 'twas too late to go anywhere—only to bed. Well, Radio Ralph got a lot uv free advertisin', didn't have to pay any tax, or license, got permission to put his ariel up on our two beautiful flagpoles, an' if one of our merchants had put up a banner on these poles to advertise his business, he would hev bin hung to one uv them same poles.

Our merchants pay high licenses an' taxes an' a lot uv money fer advertisin' an' us peepul stand 'em off fer gas 'n oil, an' jump in our lizzies and go to Reno, or somewhere else an' buy our supplies. Lots of fun, aint it?

SPORTS NEW CAR

A new Essex closed car was introduced to Carson streets and highways today by Dr. W. Circe, the doctor having taken delivery of the new machine last evening.

EVIDENCE ENTERED IN JOURNAL CASE

The introduction of evidence occupied the time of the judge, jury, and attorneys in the libel suit of ex-Senator Charles B. Henderson against the Nevada State Journal Publishing Company and George D. Kilborn in the United States district court today.

With a jury consisting of Frank Kelly, C. Johnson, L. A. Todd, Sam Bigelow, A. B. Flickenger, Robert White, John J. Muldoon, Robert Fullstone, J. W. Black, John Quinn, Henry Wood and Charles Davenport, selected late yesterday afternoon, the introduction of testimony was started at once.

Editorial articles from the Journal of the period from October 12 to November 2 were offered by Attorney George Thatcher as evidence for the plaintiff. To this Attorney Rey Benjamin for the Journal objected and Judge Dietrich today overruled Benjamin's objection.

An amendment to the complaint claiming the defendants "willfully, maliciously, wantonly and with reckless and wanton disregard of the rights of others was introduced by Thatcher and allowed to stand by the judge.

Late this afternoon Thatcher attempted to read into the record certain editorials from the Journal, which he claimed were intended to create malice against Henderson, but Benjamin objected on the grounds that they were immaterial. After some discussion it was agreed that the editorials should be gone over by counsel and the judge without the presence of the jury.

The editorials did not have a direct bearing on the charges made by Henderson in his suit, but were intended, Thatcher claimed, to create a malice in the minds of voters against Henderson, who was then a candidate for the United States senatorship. One of these articles stated that Henderson could sacrifice the interest of his party for his own affairs.

A bill of particulars, giving the names of George Kilborn and Katherine Kilborn, his wife, as the principal owners of stock in the Nevada State Journal Publishing Company, and responsible for the editorial policy when the alleged libelous articles were printed.

NEW TELEPHONE ON GEIGER GRADE INSTALLED

The telephone company has installed a telephone at the foot of the Geiger grade for the use of motorists and other travelers in case of accident or other emergency, the phone being located at the Savery place on the north side of the road near the location of the former phone, the Virginia Chronicle reports. This phone has been placed in a box on a pole erected by Storey county and is being maintained by that county, Washoe county sharing no part of the expense.

DISTRICT JUDGE ANNOUNCES

In an issue of The Silver State appears the announcement of District Judge J. A. Callahan as a candidate for re-election to the judgeship of the sixth judicial district court. He is subject to the will of the voters in Humboldt and Pershing counties, these comprising the sixth district.
